IN BEING PAGE 62

ROOT—1985

They say my tongue, my tongue
but I can taste.
My father’s, fathers were radicals “Just us” was a radical and they say my tongue, my tongue but I can taste destructive weaponry, annihilation, space stations, space medicine, satellite communication and they say my tongue, my tongue
but ‘I’ can taste
nuclear disarmament , nuclear war, kamikaze bombs, and they say my
tongue, my tongue
but I can taste
Freedom, totalitarianism, mind bending drugs, electronic surveillance, high prices, affluence, affirmative action, drug culture, jails, crimes, forced labor, random violence within and without
and they say my tongue, my tongue but I can taste repression, police state, decadence, laws, lawlessness,
video, tele shake down, competition among competitors, advancement in transmittal communication network.

Four-way conversations wholesale difficult to monitor but the price cannot be paid. Household evacuated to Mars, isolation, mental depression,
human robots – the elders with idle time waiting to die you read me.

They say my tongue, my tongue
but I can taste

Universal product code – implanted in the mind, test tube reproduction, selective cloning, genetic engineering, university training, selective discipline and one becomes ill-disciplined in a discipline, the count down translated into dollars subdivisions, have and the have-nots and they say my tongue, my tongue,
but I can taste
Remember “Just us” was a radical.

STAY UP (P 42)

FREDDIE CLAIMS

Freddie claims that I am angry-- righteous indignation, How come! I can see the “curtains” and feel the whirlwind penetrating the flesh of the wailing masses.
Freddie, I saw the waters that quench thirst...polluted
The air that sustains life contaminated, Onlookers spiked with bayonets Invaders spitting on the soil that bore fruit, Soldiers taunted by vibrant youths playing in the moonlight...hopscotch.
Contemporaries negotiating with intermediaries Leaders bathing in the sun while the vigil continues.
Freddie says I am angry Why Freddie? Submit or fight...
I saw the solar spectrum, torture chambers, barbed wires, chemical warfares, genetic engineering, the chains, the fears, persecutions, fire hoses, police dogs, tear gas, pepper gas, night sticks, sterilizations, floggings, banishments, denial of rights.
'I' 'me' and 'you', In Being “The name of the game”– Architects, animals, birds, insects and foes with masks, machinery and weaponry engulfed in a foehn;
How can I surrender while the war of liberation expands...
Parachute to ca.pit.u.la.tion
No
Nature is my mentor...
Observing people skating on ice and playing foot ball...
The rush continues--
People are naked in the sun-- Elders are dying and the youths are dreaming.
Where are the wise?
The pen stops.
The mind continues...
